

Loyola University

Fellowship Program Name: Loyola University

Fellowship Coordinator: Arely Ventura

Address:

2160 S. First
Avenue Maywood,
IL 60153

Phone: 708-216-8078

Fax: 708-216-2171

E-mail: Arely.Ventura@luhs.org

Description: Our division is a comprehensive multidisciplinary training program, supported by the Departments of Obstetrics and Gynecology and Urology.

Our goal is to train academic leaders in Female Pelvic Medicine & Reconstructive Surgery from Obstetrics & Gynecology and Urology. Specifically, we expect graduates to advance the science of the discipline through research, demonstrate excellence as mentors and educators, and provide outstanding clinical and surgical care. Our fellowship program is organized to optimally teach fellows the necessary skills as well as balancing in and out-patient clinical-surgical care, scholarship, and research. We believe learning to balance these activities during training is essential to continued success as academic leaders after graduation.

Other Degrees or Curricula Offered: Clinical Research

Requirements: Clinical Research Thesis

Program Length: 3-Years

Number of Fellows: 3

Fellowship Program Director: Elizabeth Mueller, MD, MSME

Urogynecology Faculty: Cynthia Brincat, MD, PhD; and Colleen Fitzgerald, MD, MS

Colorectal Faculty: Ted Saclarides, MD and Dana Hayden, MD

Gastroenterology Faculty: Marmy Shah, MD

Urology Faculty: Elizabeth Mueller, MD, MSME

Application Process: ERAS. In addition to the ERAS application, we will need a CV, personal statement, three letters of recommendation and a current photograph

Additional Information: www.loyolamedicine.org/gme/fpmrs